

Thesis@Keio

Further your research and develop your thesis at Keio.

Objectives

This program aims to support future researchers deepen their knowledge of Japan and provides graduate students with opportunities to expand their cultural experience and to build an international, academic network at Keio University.

Eligibility

- Applicants must be enrolled in a graduate degree program (master's or doctoral) at an overseas university.
- Applicants must be graduate students who wish to conduct part of their thesis research at Keio under the supervision of a Keio academic faculty member.

Duration

- Successful applicants may conduct their thesis research at Keio for anywhere between 7 and 89 days.
- Applicants may apply for a period (of research at Keio) of their choice throughout the academic year, except when the university is closed.

Successful Applicants...

- Will be sent necessary documents for their visa applications (if applicable).
- Will have access to the Keio University Media Center, one of the most renowned university libraries in Japan, and a shared research space.* (*available only on Mita Campus)
- Will have academic networking opportunities in Japan.
- Will have supervision and guidance from a Keio academic faculty member.
- Will be able to conduct thesis research at Keio for anywhere between 7 and 89 days at any time during the academic year (to be arranged with an assigned supervisor at Keio).
- Will have assistance in finding accommodation.

International Center, Keio University
E-mail: thesis-at-keio@adst.keio.ac.jp

<http://www.ic.keio.ac.jp/en/study/short/>