I think this dual degree program will impact massively in my life. This program offers me the experience of studying in Japan and also Australia. Aside from experiencing two different new cultures, we can make a lot of new friends. Studying abroad must have looked scary at first. You maybe have a lot of doubts and concerns. However, once you are there and experiencing it, all of those doubts will be gone.

02

I chose Ritsumeikan University because I like the academic atmosphere and the free environment in RU. Ritsumeikan is a very global university in Japan, which provides many opportunities, whether academic exchanges with other universities or employment assistance, which were very attractive to me. In addition, the ISSE Course offers excellent professional education and a high degree of compatibility for the future market. It has an international perspective, and I can communicate and learn with people from different cultural backgrounds.

Ruihao (Ben)

03

As the course is about Policy Science, we learn a lot about problems around the world, our different perspectives as students from different countries, and which kinds of policies should be applied to solve them. I am also a member of the Kansai Wall Street Dance Club (277 members), with students from not only the Osaka Ibaraki Campus, but also other campuses and universities.

04

JDP students learn about Japan's perspectives over the world at Ritsumeikan. At American University, they can experience hot issues on world politics in DC. After finishing my first semester at AU, I was a little worried about upper level courses coming up in the next semester, but I was determined to continue my hard work. Both colleges (AU and RU) are definitely challenging, but it will help us in the future if we successfully complete the courses.

Dual degree program with the Australian National University

College of Global Liberal Arts [GLA]

Bachelor of Global Liberal Arts (RU) & Bachelor of Asia-Pacific Affairs (ANU)

The College of Global Liberal Arts (GLA) is the first in Japan to provide a college-wide dual degree program in collaboration with the Australian National University (ANU).

PROGRAM DESIGN

GLA has partnered with the ANU College of Asia and the Pacific (CAP) to offer a dual degree program. All students enrolled in this program will have the opportunity to graduate with two degrees—a Bachelor of Global Liberal Arts from RU, and a Bachelor of Asia-Pacific Affairs from ANU. GLA offers a liberal arts program with a wide variety of course choices for students to explore, including Business, Economics, History, Information Science, International Relations, Management, Philosophy, Politics, Psychology, Sociology, Anthropology, Biology, Literature, Physics, Theology, and Journalism. At ANU, students will experience the dynamism of globalization firsthand and deepen their studies of the Asia-Pacific region. GLA also offers Japanese Language Courses for students to obtain high levels of Japanese proficiency by the time they graduate, as well as individualized career support to assist them to achieve their professional and academic goals. Let us help you make your dream a reality.

Why GLA?

World-Class Education that Supports Carving out Future Careers

Be a part of a world-class education and learn from some of the best academics in the Asia-Pacific region. Graduate with two bachelor's degrees from leading universities in Australia and Japan. The exciting experience of learning in both environments will expand students' possibilities and help them carve out future careers.

2

3 Years at RU in Japan + 1 Year at ANU in Australia

In this 4-year program, students will spend 3 years in total at RU and 1 year at the ANU Campus in Canberra. They can build a foundation with ANU faculty members based at RU's Osaka Ibaraki Campus (OIC) during their first years in Japan, before they travel to Australia to study. Upon their return to Japan, students will continue taking ANU courses, as a culmination of their studies of Global Liberal Arts and Asia Pacific Affairs.

3

Liberal Arts Education to Nurture Global Citizens

GLA provides students with a flexible yet rigorous interdisciplinary education through systematic exposure to fundamental knowledge from diverse disciplines. Upon successful completion of the program, students will be trained to apply their acquired knowledge for social development and problem-solving.

4

Truly International Learning Environment

This program effectively engages students in active learning in small classes of 25 students or fewer. Outside of the classroom, both domestic and international students live in an on-campus dormitory newly built for GLA students. This interactive and international learning environment helps students develop cross-cultural communication skills.

College of International Relations

Bachelor of Arts in Global International Relations

This program was launched in 2018, the 30th anniversary year of the establishment of the College of International Relations. This course is the first joint undergraduate degree program between Japan and the United States.

PROGRAM DESIGN

Joint degree programs are collaborative degrees offered by two different universities with educational and student support systems designed to develop graduates whose skills and knowledge are in demand. This exciting program offers students a chance to fully immerse themselves in the cultures and learning environments of Japan and the US. Students at both Ritsumeikan University (RU) and American University (AU) will form a cohort within and across academic years, enabling them to learn about each other's cultures and develop their cross cultural communication skills in an interactive learning environment.

Curriculum

Course Category Core Courses, Foundation Courses, Research Methodology, Foreign Language Courses, Thematic Area Courses, Regional Focus, Capstone, Elective

Thematic Areas In order to learn specialized topics within Global IR systematically, students will choose their primary and secondary areas of focus from:
Global and Comparative Governance (GCG)
Identity, Race, Gender and Culture (IRGC)
Peace, Global Security and Conflict Resolution (PGSCR)

Why JDP?

1

Joint Degree from the Leading IR Faculties in the US and Japan

The College of International Relations (RU) is recognized as one of the top institutions in Japan in the field of international relations. The School of International Services (AU) is a top-10 school of international affairs in the US. On completion, students will be jointly conferred a Bachelor of Arts degree in Global International Relations from RU and AU.

2 Years in Kyoto and 2 Years in Washington D.C.

Kyoto, the ancient capital of Japan and home to 17 UNESCO World Heritage Sites, is a famous international city that attracts visitors from all over the world. Washington D.C., the center of international politics, is an ideal place to study international relations. Students will have first-hand experiences through active learning in these two cities, exchanging ideas with students coming from all over the world.

3

Jointly Designed Curriculum

The curriculum is designed jointly by RU and AU. Students will study in a coherent academic curriculum in English which enables them to earn a joint degree from a Japanese and a US institution. This is the first program of its kind in Japan. Students will acquire a degree that is unique, distinctive, and highly desirable.

4

Career Opportunities

The degree provides the chance to pursue career opportunities in Japan and the US. Alumni of the College of International Relations have found employment in a wide variety of companies (trading companies, manufacturing companies, major airlines), institutions (such as embassies, governments), as well as further studies at graduate schools like Oxford, LSE, UBC, University of Tokyo, etc. RU and AU will offer joint career advice in each country to all JDP students.

Bachelor of Arts in International Relations

The College of International Relations was established in 1988. With more than 30 years of history, the Global Studies Major (GS) started its innovative challenge in 2011. GS offers English curriculums and welcomes students from overseas which add value to our unique and diverse learning environment.

PROGRAM DESIGN

The program is designed to be flexible, with students able to design their learning programs based on their interests and career goals. In the first year, students take a range of introductory and academic skills courses, which develop a foundation for their studies. From the second year, students start their study of core and area studies courses from the list detailed below. Second year students also take part in the hands-on Global Simulation Gaming, a class taken together with Japanese-based students. They continue to deepen their studies in the third year, particularly through the research focused Advanced Seminar, before writing their graduation thesis in their fourth year.

Cluster Courses

Governance and Peace cluster	International Law, Peace and Conflict Studies, Security Studies, International Human Rights, International Organizations, Global Political Economy, Comparative and Global Governance
Development and Sustainability cluster	Global Environmental Issues, Development Studies, Microeconomics, International Finance, International Trade and Investment, Global Civil Society and Development
Culture and Society cluster	Cultural Awareness and Communication, Media and Society, Topics in Identity, International Migration, Race and Ethnicity and Modern World, Global Sociology

Why GS?

1

One of Japan's Leading International Relations Faculties

The Graduate School of IR is the only full Japanese member of APSIA (Association of Professional Schools of International Affairs). APSIA includes highly advanced universities in 10 countries, such as Harvard University, Yale University, National University of Singapore, and others.

2

Faculty and Student Diversity

We have faculty members from various countries and regions such as Asia, North America and Europe. In addition, several professors have experience working at the UNHCR, the World Bank, as international journalists, and in a range of other international careers providing guidance to students from approximately 30 countries around the world.

3

Japanese Language Studies and Cross-Enrollment between the English-medium and the Japanese-medium Majors

International Students take 6 credits of Japanese language courses in the first year and can take further Japanese courses in the following years. GS students with a high level of Japanese language proficiency can take Japanese IR courses.

Career Opportunities

Graduates have found success in many careers with positions as diplomats, NGO employees, media professionals and also employed in international business fields. GS alumni often pursue further study to deepen their knowledge at its graduate school but also at other famous schools such as Oxford University, Johns Hopkins University, London School of Economics, University of British Columbia and others.

Community and Regional Policy Studies Major [CRPS]

College of Policy
Science

Bachelor of Arts in Policy Science

Since its launch in 1994, the College of Policy Science has grown considerably and it is now a representative of Japan's research in this academic field. The Community and Regional Policy Studies Major started in September 2013.

PROGRAM DESIGN

In the first and second year, students acquire academic and critical thinking skills, as well as basic knowledge needed to study in the core discipline areas of our program. Several of our courses involve field research with our flagship On-site-Research Project program offering exciting opportunities for research collaboration with other students either in Japan or abroad. As students progress through the program, they continually focus on their studies, gaining more in-depth knowledge and advanced thinking skills in order to prepare for their advanced Policy Seminar and Case Study Seminar courses in their third and fourth year in which students produce a final graduation thesis based on their original research.

Core Programs

Sustainable Urban Policy	Urban Planning for Sustainable Cities, Community Safety, Housing and Policy, Disaster Mitigation, Systems Analysis
Regional Economy and Development	Development Economics, Regional Development, Economic Institutions, Public Economics, International Trade and Finance
Multi-level Governance	Inter-Government Relations and Cooperation, Global Public Policies, Public Management, Constitutional Law, Social Welfare Policies

Why CRPS?

1

Faculty Members from a Variety of Backgrounds

We have faculty members who specialize in natural sciences as well as social scientists. The diversity of teaching staff allows students to not only learn specialized knowledge in various fields, but also how to analyze issues from a variety of perspectives. Small classes enable students to receive detailed instruction from the faculty members.

2

Practical Experience Conducting Social Surveys and Fieldwork

There are many opportunities in our program to do active field research either in Japan or also abroad. We place great emphasis on practical training, for example in carrying out social surveys and field research. Student-centered classes encourage active participation, lively discussions and dynamic presentations.

3

Instruction in Research Methods

A prime feature of our program is our focus on building research methods—statistical analysis, as well as quantitative and qualitative research skills. We believe these skills are critical for analyzing policies and practices and to be able to develop effective policy solutions to issues.

4

Intensive Japanese Language Studies and Exchange with Japanese Students

We offer Japanese language instruction for beginners up to advanced level. Learning Japanese will give students greater opportunities to: study policy science subjects in Japanese, participate in field research in Japan, join extracurricular activities, do an internship, and perhaps get a part-time job. Learning Japanese to an advanced level could potentially lead to a career within Japan.

Bachelor of Engineering

The College of Information Science and Engineering was established in 2004. It is the largest ICT college in Japan that provides education in the main academic fields of computer science.

PROGRAM DESIGN

Students in the Information Systems Science and Engineering Course develop the information systems engineering skills necessary to work anywhere in the world and bring imagination and technical competence to every kind of project and organization, while also maintaining the powerful benefits of their own unique personalities and cultures. The program lays a foundation in the basics of engineering and the technical competency to work flexibly with continually evolving hardware, software, and user needs.

Class Examples

Interactive Systems	Human Interface, Systems Ergonomics
Systems Engineering	Computer Architecture, Databases, Operating Systems, Computer Networks, Computer Security
Graphics and Visualization	Computer Graphics, Image Processing, Data Visualization
Distributed and Embedded Systems	Network Systems, Distributed Systems, Introduction to Robotic Systems, Imperative Programming, Web Information Engineering

Laboratories

Why ISSE?

1

Practice-Oriented

The Information Systems Science and Engineering Course is project-based learning at its best - offering practical, hands-on engineering experience to match the demands of industry leaders in Japan and worldwide. This practice-oriented education is centered around project work throughout the program.

2

Customizable Education

The Course offers flexible study plans to complement and foster individual abilities in the best possible way. A combination of fundamental classic science courses and interdisciplinary engineering practice disciplines allows students to learn both for and from doing. The learning environment as a whole is designed to develop distinctive talents, embracing diverse personalities who will work together to innovate the future world.

3

Project-Based Learning

Students join engineering projects from their first year of study while education is centered around project work throughout the program. During the first two years, students learn various processes of the engineering product life cycle and teamwork. During the third year, they are ready to launch their own projects that will lead into graduation theses.

4

Global Opportunities

A range of extracurricular programs and internships provides students with opportunities to test themselves in the larger world through academic mobility and interactions with top-level researchers. Graduation launches students into a new world where they can continue to work as researchers, product and system developers, international project managers, entrepreneurs, and more.
