The History of Ritsumeikan

The Founding Spirit and Educational Philosophy of Ritsumeikan

The history of Ritsumeikan dates back to 1869 when Prince Kinmochi Saionji, an eminent international statesman of modern Japan, founded “Ritsumeikan” as a private academy on the site of the Kyoto Imperial Palace. In 1900, Kojuro Nakagawa, former secretary of Prince Saionji, established Kyoto Hosei School (Kyoto School of Law and Politics), an evening law school that was open to working people. This school formally adopted the name Ritsumeikan in 1913 and was finally given the status of a university in 1922.

The school spirit of liberalism and internationalism advocated by Prince Saionji was combined with the ideals of academic freedom and vivacity pursued by Kojuro Nakagawa, and became a tradition of the university. This tradition also survived the intense suppression of the prewar days, as evidenced by the fact that Ritsumeikan University accepted seventeen professors who were forced by the government to leave Kyoto Imperial University (present-day Kyoto University) for their pacifist activities.

After World War II, Ritsumeikan adopted the educational philosophy of peace and democracy, faithful to the spirit of the Japanese Constitution and the Education Fundamental Law. In 1948, Ritsumeikan became one of the first Japanese universities to be reorganized under the new education system. Ritsumeikan carried out extensive reforms to ensure democratic administration of the university to better serve society as an educational institution open to the public.

In the 1990s, in response to the changes leading to a globalized information society, each faculty went through curriculum revisions to accommodate the changing global complexities and innovations affecting higher education. One significant part of these changes was the introduction of the international education programs such as the Five-Week Intercultural Programs; the One-Year Program; Ritsumeikan-UBC (the University of

The Origins of the Name “Ritsumeikan”

The word ritsumei comes from a passage in the Jinxin chapter of the Discourses of Mencius. This passage states that:

Futurize.

You determine the future.

What is the future?

The future is uncertainty. There are no right answers.

Therefore, YOU can create it yourself.

History can be altered by the will of a single individual.

That individual could be YOU.

All that you dream, everything that inspires and challenges you,
helps shape the future.

Here is where knowledge and society intersect.

... where individuals interact with others, and everyone benefits.
The unknown world beckons, and pathways to the future open up.

Now, come meet the YOU you've never known!

The world as we see it may seem unpredictable,
but together we can see it as something different.

Regardless of how difficult your individual path may be,
you have someone here who will encourage you, and cheer you on.

Do not falter, do not fear.

The future is yours.

About the tagline

■ Primary slogan: Futurize.

As we approach the year 2030, the world will change at an increasingly rapid pace and become more unpredictable than ever before. There will be no right answers. What we need in times like these is a commitment to the future. At Ritsumeikan, we will not be bound by conventional wisdom, frameworks, or stereotypes, but rather we will question them and propose what the future should look like. We have formulated this slogan with the intention of demonstrating this attitude to our students at every level and our faculty and staff with the aim of inspiring to keep tackling new challenges. It is also intended to present an image of Ritsumeikan to the public as an Academy that takes on the challenges of an ideal future and to create a driving force for both research and education.

■ Secondary slogan: You determine the future.

In a world where there are no right answers, it is important that a diverse array of efforts to tackle challenges emerge from the individuality and values of each and every person. Furthermore, the combination of these efforts will create new values that have never been seen before. This secondary slogan is intended to further develop the culture of diversity that Ritsumeikan has fostered to date and to encourage our students at every level and our faculty and staff to tackle the challenges of the future.

About the logo

The non-regular squares used in the cover design symbolize the free flow of ideas needed to break free from past conventions, to overcome the hesitation to be our unique selves, to dare to be different, and to take on challenges without seeking stability. The dot, the smallest unit of any image, expresses the human potential of the digital age. Starting from a single square, you can freely envision infinite possibilities beyond the defined limits. This square logo has no fixed shape and can be transformed into various other shapes. Ritsumeikan's new tagline, "Futurize," expresses our determination to shape an unpredictable future with our own hands, and the logo is intended to intuitively convey this concept.
